

Chinese Dinner Draws 144 Persons; International Club Program Brings In $108 For Group's Scholarship Fund

One hundred and forty-four students and guests attended the Chinese dinner sponsored by the International club last Thursday, Harry Singh, over-all chairman for the event, announced.

The dinner was held in the women's gym from eleven to one. The food was purchased from a local Chinese cafe. Featured on the menu were sweet and sour spareribs, egg fooying, boiled rice, fried rice, chow mein, fortune cookies and tea. Esther Shikuma was the food chairman.

Ticket chairman Joann Snodgrass announced $108 was taken in from the event. The money made will go into the club's scholarship fund.

The gym was decorated in Oriental style by the decoration committee. Heading the decorating committee were co-chairman Diego Guevara and Corinne Jae. Foreign music recordings were played during the dinner and chop sticks were provided for all.

Practical Experience Offered Journalists

Mr. George Abbott, Hartnell journalism teacher, has taken on a program which he hopes will provide both work and experience for a few top journalism students during the coming summer.

Mr. Abbott has written letters to all the city newspapers between King City and Santa Cruz and as far north as Gilroy. He has received favorable replies from Gilroy, King City and the Salinas Californian.

The program is set up to provide experience in either the mechanical, advertising, or news end of the newspaper business.

Mr. Abbott stated that experience would have to be the prime reason for a student taking one of the positions due to the fact the jobs will not pay very much. In order to be eligible for one of the jobs a student must have at least a grade of "B" in journalism courses and the recommendation of Mr. Abbott.

New Figures Say Enrollment Is 827

The total enrollment at Hartnell college today is 827, it was announced this week.

The total at the beginning of the semester was 896, indicating that 69 students dropped out during the semester.

Further breakdown shows there are 565 male and 212 female full-time students; 16 male and 34 female part-time students.

Eight years ago the enrollment was 707 students, and the number attending this semester tops that of any previous year.

The spring semester starts February 1.

Peter Felice And Barbara Church Appointed ASB Commissioners

Both Desire Help In Their Duties

Peter Felice and Barbara Church were appointed commissioners of rallies and assemblies and social activities respectively at Monday's meeting of the ASB commission.

President Rene Eris appointed Felice outright and named Miss Church after balloting by the commission members present. The offices became vacant after Ted Switzer resigned as rallies and assemblies head due to school work pressure and Barbara Perelli-Minetti announced that she is transferring to San Francisco State at the end of this semester.

Eris again complimented both Switzer and Miss Perelli-Minetti and stated that he had full confidence in the abilities of Felice and Miss Church.

Will Try Hard

Both new commissioners emphasized that they would put forth great effort to carry out the duties of their respective offices.

Miss Church stated that a group including Gloria Felice, Joann Snodgrass, Charles Baymiller and Norma

Four persons will share the lead roles for the Hartnell college-community players production, "No Way Out," which will be staged at the Little theater March 9, 10, 16 and 17.

Selected for the part of "Barbara Hilliard" in the three act mystery is Judy Loss, a newcomer to the Hartnell group. Ted Switzer has been named by Director Hal Ulrici to play the part of "Mr. Robert Karley."

Gloria Filice will play the role of "Dr. Enid Karley," with Michael Buntin tentatively slated to play the other lead, "Dr. Niles Hilliard."

Strong Cast

The setting for the play is the drawing room of the family mansion in upper New York state.

Wilford Wong will head the stage crew, while David Rianda will handle properties.

Hartnell Students Take Part In J.C. Athletic Tournament

Hartnell students participated in the junior college athletic tournament held Saturday at San Francisco City College. Yancy Wyatt, Don Shirk, Deanna Dales, Myrleen Fisher, Claudia Adams and Joanne Taylor competed in the badminton tournament. The archery and tennis tournaments were rained out.

Shirk entered the finals and was defeated by a Marin student. Miss Adams finished in the women's singles semifinals. Miss Dales and Myrleen Fisher entered in the women's doubles.

Hartnell and Monterey Peninsula college students were transported to the tournaments by bus.

Schools represented in the tournament were Hartnell, M.P.C., East Contra Costa, West Contra Costa, Marin J.C., San Mateo J.C. and San Francisco City College.

Art Movie Shown To Students Here

"The Photographer," another art film in the current series being shown at Hartnell was shown last week to Mr. Thomas Silliman's art appreciation class and other interested parties.

The movie is the story of Edward Weston, one of the foremost photographers in America today. It shows scenes of Mr. Weston at work in his darkroom and taking some of the pictures for which he is noted.

It is photographed and directed by Willard Van Dyke, a top man in documentary films, according to Mr. Silliman.

Nursing Teacher Is Interviewed By Panther Sentinel

Mrs. Josephine Adams, a native of Palouse, Wash., is Hartnell college's new nursing instructor. Mrs. Adams went to school there but finished high school in Eugene, Oregon.

She attended Oregon State college, emerging with her Bachelor of Arts in home economics. She later acquired her Bachelor of Science in home economics after a year's post-graduate work at the University of Oregon.

She taught home economics at Sebastapol. She was also a clothing course instructor in the Salinas evening school.

She has two children and as a hobby spends her spare time knitting and reading.

Rosendale Award Available To Pupils

The first award of the Charles B. Rosendale and Daisy M. Rosendale Scholarship fund will be given at Hartnell college next semester, Dr. W. J. McCallum, dean of men, announced this week.

The first award is being made with income from the invested scholarship grant. It is expected a $100 award will be made each semester.

All Hartnell students are eligible for the award which will be based on scholarship and financial need. Dr. McCallum is taking applications, and has set a deadline of January 27 for all applications.

English A Test To Be Given Soon

Dr. Duane Sandgren announces that the English A placement test will be given Jan. 20, at 1 in the little theater for all students who have not previously taken this examination.

Dr. Sandgren said the purpose of this test is to classify students as to the level of college English they should be taking. He also stated that it is to the students advantage to take the test. Should the student place low, it is assumed that he needs more work in order to advance.

Another point brought out was the difficulty most students have in reading correctly. The test will be made up with one third of the questions pertaining to reading. It should be brought out at this time that Mr. William Kunhart is teaching a course called "Reading Workshop 56."

Activity Support Needed

We were glad to see a fair-sized crowd at the dance Saturday night. When considering the attendance at some of the other school functions this year and last, and the fact that it was a hi-fi dance instead of having live music, the turnout might even be termed "good."

By being at the dance in reasonable numbers, Hartnell students probably assured themselves some live music dances in the future. This is a concrete example of how we can help ourselves by coming to school activities.

We must not think our job is done just by coming, however. The basketball game before the dance was a good example of this. Even though our team was winning and everyone seemed to be happy about its good play, only a handful of rooters made any noise when the team came out at halftime and during the second half.

What does it take to awaken Hartnell rooters? The team plays one of its best games of the year and almost no cheering is heard. Why? Let's give our players some encouragement to win more games by showing that we like it when they win.

Book Store Committee Created By President

With one appointment yet to be made, President Rene Eris created a new bookstore committee at the regular meeting of the ASB commissioners on Monday.

Hartnell President Stuart Dufour last week named Mr. Claud Addison and Mr. William Kunhart to the six-man faculty-student committee, and recommended Kenneth Haskell as bookstore manager.

The commission approved Haskell and Eris added the names of Jerry Radvich and Norma Yappert to the list and stated that one more appointment, possibly a sophomore girl, was yet to be made.

Will Co-ordinate Book Store

The aims of the committee, which will go to work immediately, will be to co-ordinate the activities of the book store. This will include the establishment of a smooth system for ordering and retailing books. The group will work in cooperation with Mr. Joseph Darrow, college comptroller.

In other action the commission approved the granting of a block award to Darwin Tomasini.

President Eris announced that Coach Ed Adams was offering a large collection of Hartnell sporting events photographs for the student union, and Secretary Marilyn Ingols announced that 60 students were still delinquent in paying promissory notes.

Splitting Office Considered

Frank Sherrill, vice-president and chairman of the ASB constitution revision committee, announced that the group was contemplating the separation of commissioner of rallies and assemblies into two separate offices. He asked for opinions of the commissioners present.

Ted Switzer, outgoing commissioner of rallies and assemblies, stated that the dual task of staging rallies and assemblies was more than one person could handle.

He went on to state that poor co-operation from the student body was a definite handicap to the office.

Good Assemblies Take Time

"It takes time to put on a 'lousy' assembly," he stated, inferring that a "good" assembly takes a tremendous effort and a large amount of student cooperation.

Sam Zuckerswert, chairman of student union sound system, reported that "everything is in and working fine." He added that workers from Johnston Electric company had to work harder on installation than was originally anticipated because all the wires in the ceiling were shorted out.

Highlight of the meeting, of course, was the appointment of Peter Felice and Barbara Church as commissioners of rallies and assemblies and social activities, respectively. The appointments followed Barbara Perelli-Minetti's official resignation as social activities head. Switzer tendered his resignation last week.

PETER FELICE . . .

Yappert had already volunteered to help her out in her social activities program. Felice stated that he had been approached by a few students with new ideas and promise of aid. Both commissioners are soliciting further assistance.

Miss Church, who was born in Carmel 20 years ago, now lives with her guardians, Assemblyman and Mrs. Alan G. Pattee, at 155 Corral de Tierra road, Salinas.

Palma Graduate

A 1955 graduate of Palma high school where she was active in student affairs, Miss Church is majoring in business at Hartnell. She is a member of the college student union committee. After graduation she plans on entering the business field here in Salinas. She lists her hobbies as horseback riding, tennis and swimming.

Felice, a sophomore accounting major here, was born in Salinas in 1933. He was graduated from Salinas Union high school in 1950, attended Hartnell for one year, and then spent a four-year hitch in the navy.

He resumed his studies here this year and plans to attend San Jose State after graduation. His parents are r. and Mrs. Pasquale Felice, 144 Chestnut street, Salinas.

Office Secretaries Give Bright Smiles To College Visitors

By JOHN LAUE

One question that is unanswered in the minds of many Hartnell students is, "Who are the girls with the bright smiles that greet one when he comes into the office?"

The answer to this question is, "These are Hartnell college's four hard-working secretaries." Their names: Anna Dietz, Sylvia Lanini, Mary Hernandez, and Carle Yaguchi.

Miss Dietz is secretary to Mr. Stuart Dufour, college president. She is from Soledad and was graduated from Hartnell in 1954. She was elected Homecoming queen in 1954.

Sylvia Lanini, who holds the official title of deputy registrar, has worked in the office since September, 1954. She is probably the only office worker at Hartnell in recent years who has accidentally broken the lock of the college safe so badly that it took a locksmith a couple of hours to fix it.

Quiet Texan

Mary Hernandez is the exception to the rule—she never attended Hartnell. As secretary to the faculty she types tests and operates the switchboard. She was graduated from Salinas union high school in 1954, and, although she is from Texas originally, the other girls say she is one of those rare Texans who never says a word about the state.

Last member of the well-known four is Carle Yaguchi, Hartnell Hartnell graduate of 1954. Her job as attendance clerk consists of keeping account of excused and unexcused absences. She is a resident of Castroville.

All three of the Hartnell girls participated in the college work experience program and worked part time at the city school administration office while in college.

Miss Hernandez worked at Salinas union high school and the Salinas credit bureau before coming to Hartnell.

New Microscope Bought to Study Metal Structure

The engineering department at Hartnell college recently purchased a new metallurgical microscope for use in studying the crystalline structure of metals.

It is self-illuminating and made with a new upside down design for special metallographic use. Special features include colored light filters and provision for using polarized light for bringing out grain boundaries and lamellar structure of certain crystals.

The students have discovered that with this new microscope they can, with correctly adjusted polarization, see grain boundaries which would otherwise be invisible.

This new piece of equipment will be used in the metallurgy course, engineering 40; for the materials course, engineering 8; and for the production processes courses, engineering 41 and 42. All these courses are offered during the spring term.

Panther's Claw

By CLIFF PLETSCHE

AN "A" ON THE WAY?: All the teachers at Hartnell are virtuous, righteous, upright, just, true, good, honest, reasonable, kind, fair, superb, grand, magnificent, splendid, gentle, truthful, generous, unselfish, pleasant, able, competent, capable, trustworthy, faithful, dear, swell and nice. I must put on this mask to face those blame exams next week.

CALLING JOE MCCARTHY: There is a rare form of gambling going on around these parts of late. The site: school buses. The devices: people and cars. The stakes: cups of coffee.

"I'll bet you a cup of coffee that we pass more General Motors cars in the next mile than any other make," one gambler might venture.

Or he might say: "You take the odd stops and I'll take the even stops and I bet I build up a higher score of humanity than you do."

All this serves one major purpose: smashes the monotony of those long, long hauls from outlying districts.

NOW READ THIS: Anybody who missed the dance after the basketball game Saturday really missed something. The student union lounge is an ideal dance site and there is more room in there than most people imagine. The hi-fi music was superb for dancing; just like having the live orchestra there. Watch for the next one; you won't want to miss it.

I don't know how it could have been much better but Barbara Church, the new commissioner of social activities, would like to hear personally from those students who have new ideas about such affairs.

AND READ THIS: Anybody who lives within a reasonable distance to Salinas and who misses one of the Panther basketball games without a valid reason should be tarred and feathered and kicked out of the country.

AND THIS! Whoever threw that plate from the caf in the outside butt can displayed a generous portion of childishness and just plain asininity.

I haven't been "just blowing off steam" in these last few digs. A bomb should be planted under some of the lubberly nincompoops around here.

KOLLEGE KARACTERS: Our editor figured that he could get Barbara Perelli-Minetti into University of San Francisco by just stating in the paper that that is where she is going. But apparently the Dons will stick to just men, and P-M has decided to try San Francisco State instead. . . . Another semi-retraction: Dr. McCallum's Hawaii trip gifts for men commissioners didn't get "lost somewhere between the islands and Salinas." They arrived this week, and it turns out that they are big banana hats or something. . . . Altarbound: Ladisla Narvaez of Hartnell and George Pinheiro of Santa Cruz.

MEANWHILE BACK AT THE SCHOOLHOUSE: You never saw two such characters as Fenimore Cooper and James Chapman. They hang around together and think alike, dress alike, and in a way look alike. And they are both bound in the near future for the United States Air Force Academy. Truly they are the original Costello and Costello. . . . If you listen to KDON in the near future and hear four gals giving out with some lively commercial jingles it's probably the Harmonettes of Hartnell which is comprised of Charolette Eppey, Claudia Brown, Sharon Axe and Merri Irving. . . . Saturday's hi-fi dance was advertised on classroom blackboards, as everyone knows. But what a lot of people didn't know was that "Ref. 10c" was Refreshments 10c" and not "Referees 10c." See, it followed a basketball game. Oh. . . . If you are looking for a top course to clog up MWFI in your next semester's schedule you couldn't beat journalism 20-A. Every student could benefit from it and help the Panther Sentinel at the same time. Three units.

College Librarian To Spend 1956-57 On Special Studies

Miss Luella Wiens, Hartnell college head librarian, will take a year's leave of absence to attend Columbia college's school of library service in New York City.

Miss Wiens stated that the object of her leave will be to study advanced methods of library administration. This advanced work will not be for any specific degree as she previously received her M.A. in her field. She will return to the campus for the fall semester of 1957.

Miss Wiens attended Reedley college for two years and then acquired her B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley. She

Library Receives New Book Supply

Miss Luella Wiens announces that the Hartnell library has just received a shipment of new books, both fiction and non-fiction. The books have been unpacked and are ready to be checked out by students.

The books range from Arciniegas's "America and the New World" to Young's "Personality and Problems of Adjustment."

Some of the topics include philosophy, social sciences, applied science, fine arts, literature and history.

received her teacher's credential and librarian's credential from the University of California. She was librarian at both Coalinga high school and Coalinga junior college before coming to Hartnell in 1946.

Filipino Students Awed And Delighted By United States

By Mrs. Marjorie Hitchcock

"We have ridden over the San Francisco Bay bridge!" To make that statement is to speak of the thrill of a lifetime for Herminio B. Batad and Felicisimo Cruz, students at Hartnell college from the Philippines. To them, the bridge is one of the seven wonders of the world, and to them, the United States contains all seven of those wonders.

A talk with the two Filipino men is to make an American pause to really appreciate the endowments of his land. With glowing wonder the two foreign students speak of the freedom and equality, the standard of living, the opportunities in education, and the chances for making dreams come true.

The tremendous engineering achievements in this country leave the Filipino students breathless, but the greatest thing to them is the mechanized farming equipment, because that is where their interest lies. Both are studying agriculture at Hartnell. Both hope to finish their education at Davis and then go back to the Philippines and work for the government teaching American methods to Filipino farmers.

Herminio From Santa

Herminio is from Santa, in the providence of Ilocos Sur, on Luzon. He is the youngest of six brothers, one of whom lives in Watsonville, and it was this brother who arranged for Herminio to come to Hartnell to study. Herminio had graduated from the university of the East in Manila, majoring in finance, and was about to accept a position with an insurance company when the letter came from his brother inviting him to study in the United States. He heeded the advice of his mother to accept the invitation.

Felicisimo is from San Jose, Nueva Ecija, Providence, in the Philippines. He has a mother, four brothers and three sisters in the islands. He received elementary and high school education in his native land, and because his father is dead, an uncle, who lives in Salinas, brought Felicisimo here to support him and put him through college.

After forcing themselves to work in the enervating climate of the Philippines, Herminio and Felicisimo actually enjoy working in the pleasant climate of California. And they are happy that they do not have to worry that tomorrow might come a hurricane, and their houses might be floating around on the China sea, perhaps with them clinging to the roofs.

Both Like United States

Both Filipino students see so much good in the United States that they can hardly find anything to criticize. But Felicisimo did admit that he finds it difficult to become accustomed to eating so much bread, and Herminio says he misses his favorite Filipino dish, the Pina-cbet.

Jeanne Robertson Bombed In Cellar Of English School

By Mrs. Marjorie Hitchcock

Jeanne Robertson, who came from England and is now a sophomore student at Hartnell college, is constantly amused at Americans because they are always rushing as if each moment is the last moment. Americans, she feels, have the attitude that if they do not get things done now, they will never get them done; if they do not take advantage of opportunities at the moment they arise, the opportunities will be gone.

This feeling, the English student realizes, arises from the keen competition in America, yet she feels it is inconsistent with the fact that there are many more opportunities in America, and the fact that Americans' lives are more secure, especially from the terrible threat of poverty which is so widespread in Europe.

Miss Robertson was born in Blackpool, Lancashire county, England, and was educated in convents in England, on the continent of Europe and in Canada. In the convents there were only girls and they had few of the numerous social activities American students enjoy. The hours were longer, from

THE COOL AND QUIET

By JOHN LAUE

This week the story of one of the all-time greats of the trumpet would be appropriate since he was just voted top trumpet man again in the Metronome poll. He is known to jazz fans all over the world as "Dizzy."

"Dizzy" was born October 21, 1917, in Chehaw, S.C., and was named John Birks Gillespie. He got an early start in music and became a professional musician in his teens.

Soon he was a graduate of Laurinburg Institute in Laurinburg, S.C., and spent some time playing with the band of Frankie Fairfax and Teddy Hill.

It was with Hill that he got his first chance to go to Europe, in 1937. Probably because he was ahead of his time in playing style, the Paris critics did not give him good reviews. They only commented that his playing was rather strange.

When he returned to America and continued playing with Edgar Hayes, Cab Calloway, and Les Hite, favorable comments on his playing started to come. After short stints with Fletcher Henderson and Duke Ellington he joined the now famous Billy Eckstein big band.

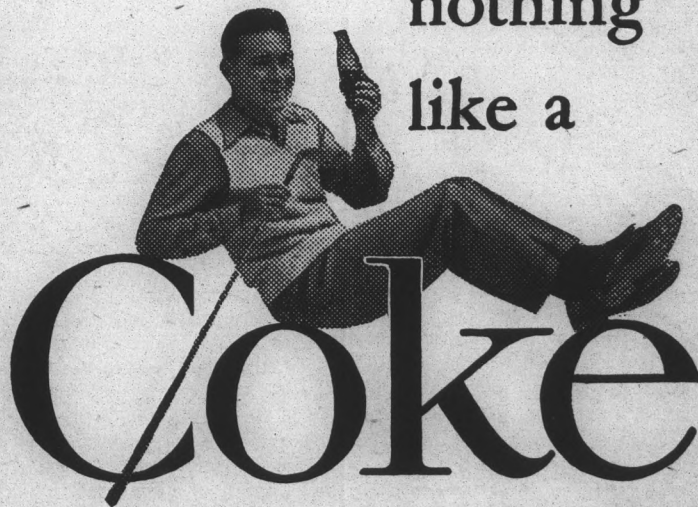

The Eckstein band was one of the most imitated pace-setters of the time for jazz musicians, but it couldn't seem to make much money. It ran up against the old trouble of being a little bit too revolutionary for its time. Thus in 1945 Dizzy left the band and went out on his own.

Success followed success after he left the Eckstein band and since then he has composed and played many new standards and made a tremendous impression on the public and other musicians.

JAZZ NOTES: Recently a farmer in Watoma, Wis., decided to try to increase egg production by playing music on a phonograph in his chicken house 24 hours a day. He reported that the week he played to cool music of pianist Dave Brubeck, egg production went up 13.3 per cent. Question of the day: Will records replace roosters?

A WOMAN'S VIEW

By MARION PHILLIPS
Panther Sentinel Sports Editor

Technically basketball season is in full swing, but from the look of things around this campus it could be tiddly-winks season. What happened to the fanatic rooter, the beating of drums and the flashing maroon and gold pompons?

Since the last football jersey was folded neatly in place and the last shoulder pad checked in, the rush of school spirit has dropped like a part-time grade average! The attendance at the home games of the 1955-56 basketball season has been "nil and void." It was overheard that a footballer's one ambition was to play before a crowd of 40,000. It is a dream that Hartnell basketball plays before 140.

Those who have kept up with their team know what a potential force we have to win the championship. Hartnell needs champions, and with champions goes all the pomp and circumstance that Hartnell collegians hold so lightly. Get behind your basketball team, let them see you and hear you—beat those drums—flash those pompons, and then when these deserving men boast a championship, it will be one that we can all be proud of.

Student From Azores Islands Speaks Well Of United States

By CLIFF PLETSCHET

"Everybody in the Azores says the United States is the greatest country in the world."

This broad statement was delivered with assurance this week by dark-eyed Darold Coelho, a temporary resident of Santa Cruz and one of two dozen foreign students enrolled this semester at Hartnell college.

Darold appeared pretty certain of what he was saying though he was willing to admit he hadn't met and talked with everyone in the cluster of nine tiny islands off the coast of Portugal where he was born 21 years ago.

May Stay In America

Though his student visa will expire in four years, the Azorian feels pretty certain that he will stay on in this country. When asked what he didn't like about the United States he retorted with a flat "nothingl."

Darold first came to the United States ten months ago through the benevolence of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel R. Holmes of Santa Cruz, and Mr. John B. Lemos, late president of Hartnell college who died in December 1954. All native Azorians, they desired to see a countryman get a liberal education.

Mrs. Holmes is Darold's god-mother and reared him from infancy until she came to the United States seven years ago to join her husband. Two years ago Mr. Lemos after hearing about the youth, suggested to Holmes that Coelho come to this country and enroll at Hartnell college.

Amazed At Buildings

Darold steamed past the Statue of Liberty on March 4, 1955. He was amazed at the tall buildings in New York City because according to a governmental regulation in his country no buildings may be more than six stories. This regulation grew from the danger of earthquakes and volcanic action.

Darold speaks five languages: Portuguese, Spanish, French and English. He learned English in a three year course in high school and by working as a telephone operator at the American airbase in the Azores.

He is majoring in foreign languages at Hartnell, will go on to San Jose State or University of California, and then will take up teaching duties either in this country, or in Europe.

Father Is Barber

The dark-haired, entergetic young scholar was born in Angra do Heroismo, Terceira island. His parents were poor, his father working as a barber. His one brother, Carlos Alberto, 13, still lives with his parents in the islands.

His guardians, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, are chicken ranchers at 213C - 17th avenue, Santa Cruz.

When asked to make comparisons between his country and the United States, Darold cited language, living conditions, food, education and women as the main differences. He says that climate, enthusiasm for cars and sports are about the same.

Portuguese Main Language

Portuguese is the main language of the Azores though the American military influence has spread heavily a knowledge of English among the natives.

Most of the people are poor; there are few capitalists. Darold states it this way: "The rich are really rich and the poor are really poor."

Like most Latin cultured peoples Darold thrives on highly spiced foods. This he misses in the United States.

No Colleges In Azores

There are no institutions of higher education in the Azores, but a high school education there is comparable to two years of college in the United States. Attending school is considered a highly cultural stage in his country, Darold states. A student working at an outside job while attending school is unheard of, and a man student would never appear on campus without a necktie.

In elaborating on the differences between Azorian and American women, Darold stated that the former leads a more sheltered life and is not quite as sociable as the latter. "Like everything else in the United States, the women are just wonderful," the Azorian gleamed.

Boutte Leads Cage Scorers With 211

With 16 games played to date, Center Hal Boutte is still leading the Hartnell college basketball scoring parade with a total of 211 points, 55 of them by way of the free throw route.

Behind Boutte is Ronnie Critchfield who has hit for 191 tallies. Boutte and Critchfield have been the one-two punch for the Panthers so far this season.

Glenn Tucker, who has really shown some fine ball handling, has posted 146 points. Behind him with 141 points is guard Dick Casper who has turned in some outstanding play for the Hartnell Panthers this season.

Bob Stevens has hit for 41 field goals and has added 42 more points via the gratis throw for 124 points.

Cox IS Hustler

Bill Cox, who has proved to be a most determined player on the courts this season with his hustle and fine ball handling, has posted 105 points in 13 games.

Others in the scoring column this season are: Gus Anderson, 59; Don Lintz, 23; John Vear, 13; Bill Rodrigues, 9; and Marty Munoz with 4 points.

Hartnell's season's record is eight wins and eight losses.

ROBERTSON . . .

8 to 4, and there were enforced study periods of 4 hours each evening. At the age of 11 she was taking algebra and geometry, Latin, French, English, geography, history and chemistry.

Recalls World War II

During World War II Miss Robertson was attending Notre Dame convent in England and the whole school was moved to the basements underground. The cellars were converted into air raid shelters, and one night, while the students and instructors were crowded into these shelters, the chapel was bombed.

Jeanne, who lives with her family in Santa Cruz but stays in Salinas during the college semester, is studying dramatics at Hartnell. She hopes to continue her drama studies at Pasadena playhouse. Under the direction of Mr. Hal Ulrici she has had the lead in "Duet for Two Hands," "Lute Song" and "Rumplestiltskin," and played in "The Robe," "Time Out for Ginger," and played in "A Christmas Carol."

Because she is interested especially in musical comedy, Miss Robertson is also studying opera. Last semester, under the guidance of Vahe Aslanian, Hartnell singing director, she learned and sang roles from "Il Trovatore" and "Carmen." She will probably continue studying the opera when the workshop opens next semester.

One of the nicest things about the United States, the English girl feels, is its spaciousness, the unlimited pastimes, varied scenery, and the scope and opportunities she has for furthering her career.

Harts Down San Jose Frosh

The Hartnell Panthers blasted the San Jose Freshmen, 65-59, Saturday on the home court. The Panthers dominated all periods of play.

Both quintets started fast and at the end of the first quarter the score read, Hartnell 17, San Jose 14. From then on

San Jose couldn't penetrate the Hart's defense, and found it difficult to remove the lid on the basket.

Dick Casper collected the scoring honors for the evening with 18 points. Hal Boutte, Panther's far-reaching center, tallied up a welcome 14 digets. The Panthers have an open calendar next week because of final examinations.
